Bears' interest in vehicles increasing

Bears appear to be have taken up a new interest in automobiles.

There have been two incidents in the past week in which a bear forced its way into a vehicle.

Greg Hurle was enjoying a cup of morning coffee on his deck Friday when he glanced down and noticed that the seat portion of the passenger side of his wife's car was lying on the ground. Naturally, he thought the situation odd, so he went down to investigate. He found the entire side of the car covered with claw marks, scratches and dirt.

Inside the vehicle, all that was left on was the spring underpinnings of the seat. There was dirt and hair where a bear had crawled through the window.

Julie Hurle said she had left the car windows open when she arrived home Thursday evening because it was so hot. "I don't think there was anything in the car to attract the bear," she said. She had purchased some blueberries that day but the container was in the house.

The bear, evidently dissatisfied that it couldn't find what it was looking for under the seat, left by the open driver's window, leaving more dirt, hair and scratches in its wake.

"This is the first time something like this has happened to us," she said. "I have heard of sightings in the area, but never had an encounter like this."

The mother of two said the boldness of the bear is a cause for some concern for her. She noted that she often lets her three and a half year old play outside, but she will obviously be more careful about that now.

The keys had been left in the ignition, however, it appeared the vehicle had not been moved.

The Hurles have contacted the insurance company to see if the car is covered in the case of a bear attack.

The second incident involved a vehicle on South Lake Road near Minden. In this case the bear smashed the closed windows of the 1988 Grand Cherokee and entered the vehicle and tore apart portions of the interior.

Police said the bear may have been attracted by the discarded candy bar wrappers, pizza boxes and potato chip bags in the vehicle.

Police warned residents to be aware that bears have been seen in a number of locations in the county. Garbage,

Helipad tender approved

by Jerry Grozelle

The following items were discussed at the June meeting of the Haliburton Highlands Health Services Board. The meeting was held June 14 at the Kinmount Health Centre.

Construction of the helipad at the Minden Hospital site will begin as soon as possible, says Haliburton Highlands Health Services CEO Foster Loucks. The tender submitted by Hawk River Construction was accepted by the board at a cost of $147,000 and includes paving of the helipad surface and installation of landing lights and other electrical work. Work will be done to federal Department of Transportation specifications.

Only one other bid was submitted, from JAC Kernohan Construction of Minden.

In addition to the cost of the tender, HHHS has contracted with Hydro One to bury the hydro lines which cross in front of the property. The cost

The youngsters from Wilberforce Elementary School were given a tour of the entire facility, including the emergency department, acute care wing, physiotherapy department and the Highland Wood long-term care section. food, wrappers and bird feeders can attract these animals. Prompt disposal of this kind of garbage will reduce the possibility of an unwanted visit by a bear.

Saved

In a related incident, a bear which became trapped in a recycling dumpster at the Maple Lake Stanhope dump, was freed from the metal cell Friday morning.

Dump attendant Bruce Stewart said he believed the bear fell into the eight foot deep dumpster on Thursday. Since the bin had recently been emptied, the bear was caught in the bottom and the smooth steel sides did not provide a claw hold with which it could escape from the container. Since the dump was closed on Thursday, he is uncertain when the bear fell into the container. However, he noted that if it had been during the day, it would not have been a very pleasant experience for the black bear, as temperatures and humidity soared. The same held true on Friday.

However, using a long 2 X 4, Stewart and another person were able to unlock and pry open the door at the end of the container. After a moment's hesitation, the bear wandered out of the cell and ambled off into the bush.

According to Stewart and other observers, the Maple Lake dump is a popular spot with bears. Earlier this month a sow with three cubs was seen rooting through the garbage, along with a number of boars. While the bears are interesting to observe, the dump attendant cautions visitors not to get too close to the animals. He noted that the bear which was caught in the dumpster had claws as long as his middle finger.

Cat alerts couple to kitchen fire

Krystal to the rescue

Thanks to an alert feline, a potential disaster was averted late Thursday night.

Syd and Betty Lockhart were watching the end of a movie on their television shortly after 11 p.m. at their Maple Lake home. Their cat, 17 year old Krystal wandered in from the kitchen. But rather than coming over to where the couple was sitting, the cat stood by the doorway and kept looking back over its shoulder toward the kitchen. "It was acting strange, as if something was wrong and as I went to the doorway, I could hear the crackling sound."

It was then Syd realized that smoke was pouring from a portion of the kitchen wall. "I called the Stanhope fire emergency number and then called my neighbour, Bill," Syd said. He threw some water on the smoking area using a dog's water dish then went outside to discover that flames had burst through the outer skin of his house. "I was fortunate to have the garden hose right there and turned it on directing it at the flames."

According to fire chief John Hogg, dousing the flames helped to keep the fire at bay until the fire department arrived to bring the blaze completely under control.

The cause of the fire, which left a charred hole in the end of the Lockhart home was believed to be faulty wiring. Damage was limited to the wall, although the acrid smell of smoke is evident throughout the house.

The smoke detector in the kitchen portion of the house was working. However, the Lockharts were unable to hear it because of the closed door, the noise of the air conditioner and the television. "It is fortunate the fire did not happen in the middle of the night," Syd Lockhart said. "We probably wouldn't have been aware of it until the entire house was aflame. We could have lost everything."

However, for the moment the Lockharts are very pleased with Krystal and the way she helped alert them to the fire in their kitchen. "She is special," Betty said as she offered the cat a treat.

Syd Lockhart, with Krystal, the cat which alerted him to a fire which left a hole in the kitchen wall.

Last week's smog advisory included the Highlands

For the second time this summer, the Haliburton Highlands has been included in the areas named in a smog advisory issued by the Ontario Ministry of Environment.

For two days last week, Thursday and Friday, the Highlands was included in a broad swath of southern and central Ontario where the advisory applied. According to Dave Yap of the Environmental and Monitoring Branch of the MOE, the of that portion of the work has been estimated at $31,000. The wires must be buried to eliminate the danger posed to helicopters using the helipad.

Lions Club pledges another $50,000

The Minden and District Lions Club has pledged an additional $50,000 to the Haliburton Highlands Health Services Foundation, according to an announcement from Foundation manager Dale Walker. The funds will be donated over the next two years. The recent commitment brings the total the Minden club has pledged to the Foundation to $200,000. The club has asked that the money be used to help complete the helipad at the new Minden Hospital.

HHHS AGM coming up

The annual general meeting of the Haliburton Highlands Health Services Board will be held at the Hyland Crest Auditorium on Friday, June 29 at 3 p.m. The meeting will be preceded by an open house at the primary care centre, with displays set up by community partners, and tours of the hospital facilities.

Haliburton-Victoria-Brock MPP Chris Hodgson will assist with the opening ceremonies at 2:30 p.m.

The AGM will feature the election of directors, reports from the various department heads and the auditor's report. The revised by-laws also will be adopted at the meeting.

Board Chair Dave Coulson noted that all board meetings are open to the public and groups interested in making presentations are welcome to be added to meeting agendas, with advance notice.

Chairman's comments

HHHS Board Chair Dave Coulson said there are some challenges in store for the future of health care.

"We're headed for a very difficult time in health care," Coulson said. "Never have we faced the problems we are at this time."

He noted the difficulty of recruiting doctors and nurses and the fact that governments seem to base their funding formulas on policy and not necessarily on needs.

Golf Classic fund-raiser

The annual Golf Classic fund-raiser is set for July 12 at PineStone.

The honorary chair of this year's classic is retired National Hockey League referee in chief Scotty Morrison. HHHS Foundation Manager Dale Walker said she expects the event to raise $30,000 or more.

Lions Club gets 20 feet

The Board has agreed to donate 20 feet of the property at the old Minden Hospital site to the Minden and District Lions Club. The additional property will allow the club access to its clubhouse and to provide additional parking space for the Lions Clinic and clubhouse. The property is immediately adjacent to the clinic and forms part of the current helipad. The transfer can not be completed until the new helipad is constructed and operational at the new hospital site.

"The Lions Club and Clinic have been good neighbours," CEO Foster Loucks stated. "They have been generous with their support of the foundation and continue to be a major contributor to our efforts. I think the board is appreciative of this special relationship and is glad to be able to do something in return for the club."

The costs associated with severing the 20 feet will be the responsibility of the Lions Club.

The remaining property of the old Minden hospital is being offered for sale by public tender. The current zoning is institutional. Closing date for the tenders is July 21.

They are at the post at Hyland Crest

by Jack Brezina, Editor

A trumpet blares out the call to the post as the horses stand at the starting line. The spectators, most clutching their betting slips, press against the imaginary rail and with the toss of a giant dice the horses "dash" down the track heading for the finish line.

Horse racing has been introduced at Hyland Crest.

This time, of course, "the sport of kings" does not involve real horses, but the interest and attention of spectators is just as intense as if they were at the track.

The race track is a table top version set up in the Hyland Crest auditorium. The spectators are all members of the Adult Day Centre program, held every Thursday, sponsored by the Victorian Order of Nurses (VON).

Activationists Kelly Harpley and Kim Britton welcome eight to twelve clients each week to the centre. Some attend for just a half day while others are there from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.

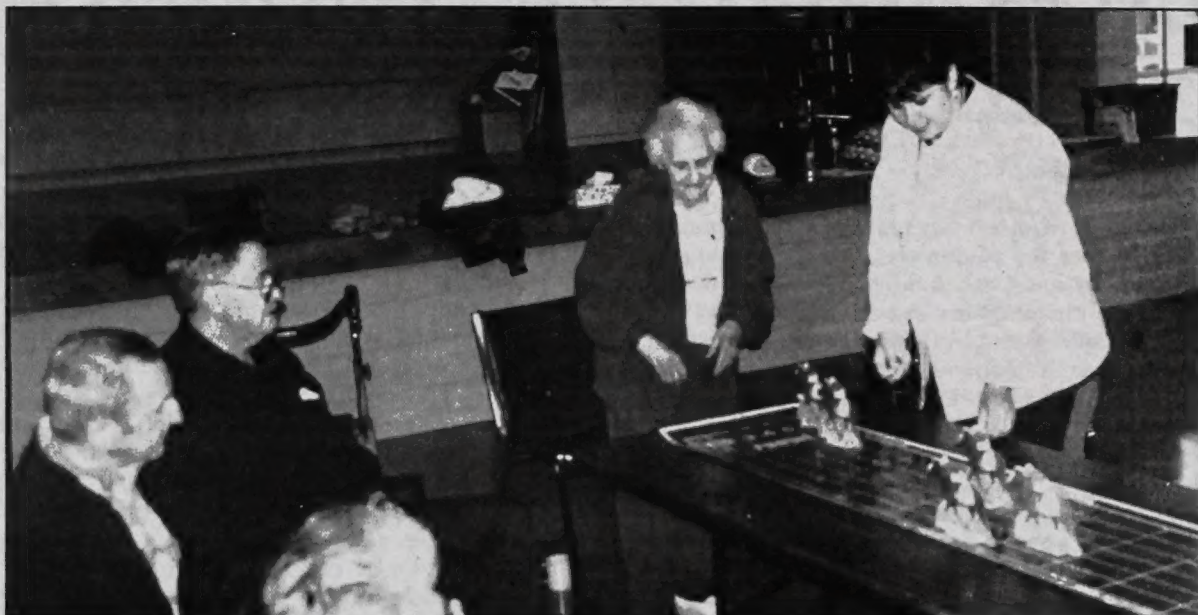

All are individuals who, due to a stroke or medical condition, spend most of their days at home under the care of a spouse or family member. For many it is the only time during the week that they can get out.

"It is an opportunity to enjoy the company of others," Harpley explains. "Our program includes a variety of activities that encourages interaction among the clients, that stimulates their minds and keeps their bodies active." The day can include games such as the horse racing, trivia contests, entertainment by visiting groups and individuals, exercise programs, baking, crafts and other activities. "We attempt to provide a full range of activities of interest to all our clients," Harpley explained.

Not only is it an enjoyable outing for the clients, the fact that they are in a secure setting allows the care-givers some time to themselves. It can be very draining for the individual responsible for the care of another adult on a 24 hour a day basis, Harpley pointed out. "The adult Day Centre provides the break the care-givers need," she noted. "They can go shopping, visit with friends or simply put their feet up for a few hours and relax without having to worry about their loved ones."

The Adult Day Centre recently relocated to the Hyland Crest Auditorium site and they are pleased with the facility. There is lots of space for activities, a small kitchen in the corner of the hall and a quiet corner for those who need a break.

In addition to the activities generated by Harpley and Britton, the group often hosts visitors. On this day, a group of square dances from the Haliburton Highlands Twirlers were there to perform. The clients ringed the dance floor, toes a-tapping, as the four couples, in their colourful costumes, whirled about the room to the lively square dance music. The smiles are ample evidence that the clients are enjoying the music as much as the dancers.

While the centre is operated by the VON, clients must register with the Community Care Access Centre to participate (1-800-743-6255).

The Adult Day Centre is held in Minden on Thursday and each Tuesday at the Haliburton County Home Support Services office in the Halco Plaza in Haliburton. There is a $19 charge for the full day, including lunch. Half day participation is $10. Transportation can be arranged for those who need a driver.

The air we breath

Editorial Letters

It is not something you expect to hear about in the Haliburton Highlands. Like gridlock and people sleeping in the streets, the problem of air pollution or smog is something we think only happens in the city. That perception was shaken this past week when, for the second time this year, this region was mentioned in a Ministry of Environment's smog alert and advisory.

It was obvious during Thursday and Friday that all was not well. A visible haze hung over the area and the air, already heavy with humidity, was also thick with the exhaust of automobiles, factory and power plant chimneys. It was uncomfortable for everyone and dangerous for those with respiratory problems.

The "good" news in this latest incident is that the pollution was not generated here. According to MOE experts, the smog was being wafted northward by a strong southerly flow of air, sweeping first over the industrialized midwestern states and Ohio Valley and then across the industrial areas of southern Ontario before arriving here. As we discovered on the weekend, a shift in the weather patterns quickly took this region out of the smog advisory area. While the air was still warm, it was a great deal clearer and cleaner.

The bad news in all of this is that while we may be concerned about the quality of the air we breath in the Highlands, there is precious little we can do to change it. As the MOE expert outlined, we are at the mercy of the actions of someone else, not only elsewhere in the province, but in regions far beyond our national borders. Short of getting in the car and heading north, in this case that would be above North Bay or Sault Ste. Marie, there is little that can be done in the short term to change what is being foisted upon us.

However, we are not without some recourse, although the beneficiaries of our actions will more likely be the generations that follow rather than ourselves. There are many ways we can be a part of the solution, not the least of which is letting the governments at the provincial and federal levels know that this situation is unacceptable. Often this seems like a futile action, yielding few results. The provincial government in particular, is sensitive to the consequences of air quality and wants to be seen taking positive steps to improve it. Letting the politicians know this current situation is unacceptable will help to spur them to action.

The federal government is the one to confront our neighbours to the south and while that may be a little more difficult task, improvements won't occur unless someone asks for them.

There are many things which can be done individually to reduce the impact we have on air quality. Reduced use of fossil fuels is the main contribution individual can make. This includes reduced use of vehicles, lawn mowers, barbecues and open fires. Reducing ones demand on the electrical system will also have an impact beyond the immediate area.

Although we may feel somewhat isolated from the worries that haunt the communities to the south, we are not immune to them, nor should we be complacent about them. Acting individually and in concert with others, we should be able to create a world in which the quality of the air we breath is not a concern. If we can't, the consequences will be further fouling of the air we all need to survive.

Great competition

Editor:

I made a vow to stop sounding off in your esteemed paper but, leaning on reporter Jerry Grozelle's Jeep watching the tremendous competition at this year's Timbersport Championship forces me to write again.

It is almost impossible to give sufficient thanks to the volunteers, sponsors and competitors who make this an outstanding event every year. Moving it to the Fairgrounds eliminated blocking our Main Street and made it possible to spread out and actually see the events, rather than looking over three or four rows of people.

The people who organized and oversaw the whole day deserve the thanks of all of us who enjoyed the event.

provincial parks and conservation areas created during the Lands for Life process in 1999.

At the same time, many concerned citizens feel betrayed by the Harris government's lack of commitment to real protection in our provincial parks. We hope that history will not repeat itself and protection on the Oak Ridges Moraine will be of the highest level.

If Mr. Vrancart and the Harris government are serious about facilitating a true public consultation process for the Oak Ridges Moraine, they must not allow the freeze to thaw prematurely by allowing exemptions. A successful process run by Mr. Vrancart and Minister Hodgson will have in place, before the moratorium ends, a long-term land-use plan for the Oak Ridges Moraine that puts the environment first, not the short-term interests of the developers.

You bet your life

I was speechifying in Regina recently, and found myself with a free evening to kill, so I did what I often do in cities when I'm looking for a cheap thrill: I went to a casino. Not to gamble - hey, I know a mug's game when I see one - just to stroll around and watch.

All casinos are inherently repellent, dedicated as they are to a lethal brew of blood simple greed and boneheaded gullibility. The idea is to whip the wallet-bearing clientele into a mindless spending frenzy.

Thus, the cheap drinks, the harsh lights, the never-ending cacophony of pings and boings and bells and sirens. And the absence of clocks. The folks who run casinos wouldn't want you fretting about a petty thing like time going by. Yep, casino designers have thought of just about everything to keep the customers in front of the slots or the gaming tables.

Ironically, enough, that's become a bit of a problem. Gambling is a sedentary pastime. You don't get much of a cardiovascular workout hoovering loonies into the maw of a one-armed bandit and you don't develop great pecs playing Blackjack against the dealer. A dedicated player could get seriously out of shape - even die - before he's lost all his money. Naturally, the casino masterminds are concerned about such a possibility.

Enter "Pedal 'N Play" and "The Money Mill" - two brand-new casino machines fresh from the drawing boards of an outfit that calls itself the Fitness Gaming Corporation. These machines are a literal fusion of gambling and recreation technology.

"Pedal 'N Play" is a bicycle welded to a slot machine. "The Money Mill" is a slot machine combined with a treadmill. In other words, all those casino addicts steadfastly clutching their plastic buckets of quarters and loonies now have a chance to lose pounds as they lose their money.

And just to remind the users of "Pedal 'N Play" and "The Money Mill" of what the exercise is really about, the bicycle and the treadmill are programmed to stop functioning whenever their attached slot machines are idle for more than twenty seconds.

A chance to become slim and insolvent at the same time. Does life get any better than that?

The Fitness Gaming Corporation brochure carols that "...there is a new generation of health-conscious adults who enjoy gaming, but do not want to be subjected to a smoke-filled casino. Promoting health and fitness on the casino floor will capture a whole new audience of gamblers!"

Well, I suppose. And I suppose marks - fit as a fiddle or fat as Farouk - will continue to stream into casinos with dreams of instant jackpot wealth - even though casinos are the biggest sucker bet this side of moose pasture stock certificates.

That said, I can tell you one surefire way to beat the casino odds: be sure to eat a meal and order a couple of beers while you're there. Food and drinks are usually first rate in casinos - and cheap as dirt, to boot. Which is natural - they've got other plans for separating you from your money, after all. Besides, it's the only break you'll ever get from a casino.

Numerous break-ins reported across the county

The Haliburton Highlands Detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police has investigated a number of break-ins during the past few weeks. Investigations continue:

- Four bottles of alcohol were taken from a cottage on Eagle Lake Road in Guilford Township sometime between May 26 and June 8.

- A piece of artwork, depicting, in black and white, a bear's head and a maple leaf, was taken from PineStone Resort on Highway 121 on June 9.

- A 15 foot Swift canoe was removed from a cottage on Oxtongue Road in Sherborne Township. The incident was investigated on June 8.

A residence on Black Point Road in Harburn Township was entered June 10. Stolen from that location was a weed wacker.

- A VCR and a quantity of alcohol were taken from a cottage on Concession Seven in Dysart Township. The incident was investigated June 10.

- A cottage under construction on Fielding Road near Ingoldsby, was entered between June 6 and 8. No items were taken by the intruders.

Driver charged

A Haliburton man faces three charges related to an incident June 14 on County Road 121 in Dysart Township. The vehicle was stopped after an officer noted it was travelling at a high rate of speed. Charges of impaired operation of a motor vehicle, operating a vehicle with more than the legal limit of alcohol in his blood and failing to comply with an undertaking were laid.

Peter Austin, 37, is scheduled to appear in court in Minden.

Chuck McGuire of Pickering did something that most golfers only dream of — he shot a hole-in-one.

McGuire, who was staying at a friend's cottage at Carnarvon for the weekend, spent some time on the links of Blairhampton Golf Course June 9. He impressed his golfing companions John Wood, Gary O'Hara and Rory O'Hara, aching the 164-yard second hole, using a six iron.

PLAYING WITHOUT A FULL DECK: With the decking stripped away, the frame of the old Gull River bridge is ready to be dismantled. Crews completed clearing of the railing and surface on Friday.

Two Haliburton students go to National Chess Championships

Alex Danilko and Kaila Grech will be representing Ontario at the Canadian Youth Chess Championships in Sackville, New Brunswick in early July. Both students qualified for the national tournament by virtue of their strong finishes at the Ontario Provincial qualifier on June 2 in Toronto.

Alex is a Grade 6 student at Archie Stouffer Elementary School in Minden and Kaila is a Grade 5 student at Gooderham Elementary School. Both of these students turned in top performances at county events and at the regional qualifier in Lindsay. Both students are in the Under 12 category with Alex in the boys division and Kaila representing the girls. Amber Loney, a Grade 3 student at GES, also qualified in the Under 10 category.

The national championship will be held at Mount Allison University from July 3-7. Both Kaila and Alex are busily preparing their best strategies and tactics for this tough seven-round tournament. Meanwhile they are also raising the necessary funds to make the trip east.

Should they finish in the top three in Sackville, they will earn the right to represent Canada at the World Youth Chess Championships. This year the WYCC will be held in Oropesa del Mar, Spain from October 20 to November 3.

Southerly winds brought foul air into the Highlands

smog was the result of a broad high pressure ridge pumping the polluted air in from the south. "This is a trans-boundary situation with much of the smog originating in the industrialized midwest, Ohio Valley, area of the United States," he said. A similar set of circumstances resulted in an advisory being issued in early May.

He noted that the strong southerly winds pick up the output from manufacturing and power plants in the U.S. and carry them to Ontario. Before these winds reach the Haliburton Highlands they cross the industrialized areas of Ontario, adding to the pollution content in the air. Yap said the direction of the wind, southerly, southwesterly or westerly will dictate the source of the pollution.

A haze which many people commonly associate with large cities such as Toronto, was clearly visible in the Highlands last week. Smog includes ground level ozone as well as fine particulate matter and other pollutants emitted from smoke stacks. Ozone is created when nitrogen oxides (by-products of combustion) and volatile compounds (the solvents in paint thinners and fuels) combine in the presence of sunlight.

For individuals with breathing problems the polluted air can cause respiration problems. The advisory was issued as a warning to those individuals to reduce or eliminate outdoor activities, particularly those requiring exertion. The advisory is also issued to encourage the population to reduce pollution sources such as vehicles, lawn mowers, barbecues and open burning.

The southerly winds also bring increased humidity, which can create further discomfort for those with breathing problems. The humid air is also more likely to "hold" the smog causing particles in the air.

Yap said the area covered by the advisory reached as far north as Sault Ste Marie and North Bay.

There are two ways for the air to clear. "Rain helps to reduce the smog levels in the air," he said. "A change in the weather pattern is the best way to clear away the smog in your area." Noting that there are relatively few smog producing sources in the area, when the weather patterns change, the smog will generally clear away. Yap said when the wind moves around to the north the air should clear. That change in the weather occurred on Saturday and the smog advisory was lifted for all of the province.

Stewardship series at the Frost Centre

Workshop will focus on waterfront living

The Leslie M. Frost Natural Resource Centre, located 12 km south of Dorset, is hosting The Stewardship Series informative workshops for landowners, land stewards and cottagers. "Waterfront Living" is the title of the next seminar which will be held at the centre June 23 from 9:00 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

In partnership with the Federation of the Ontario Cottagers Association (FOCA), the "Waterfront Living" workshop will be of particular interest to cottagers and lake stewards. At this workshop, participants will learn the importance of the 'Ribbon of Life' where land, water and air meet, and the positive influences people can have on water quality and habitat managing the waterfront properly. Subjects covered will include; Living by Water - Tips & Tails; Septic System Sensibilities; Waterfront Rehabilitation; Riparian Zone Biology; and Forestry in Cottage Country - your lot and beyond.

An interpretive tour of the Frost Centre's forestry trail will be featured in the afternoon, as well as an interpretive waterfront tour highlighting waterfront rehabilitation. Participants will receive comprehensive notes, posters and brochures as reference material.

Pre-registration for this workshop is recommended. Cost is $10, taxes included. Participants can bring a lunch or purchase a lunch at the Frost Centre at an additional cost of $11.21 (please register in advance).

The Stewardship Series consists of five workshops designed for anyone planning and conducting work projects on private lands. Participants will gain the knowledge and skills required to practice good land conservation through on-the-land investigations, resource sharing and networking with land stewardship experts. The Stewardship Series is sponsored by the Haliburton Highlands Stewardship Council and the Parry Sound/Muskoka Stewardship Network.

For more information or to register for the 'Stewardship Series' of your choice, please contact Leslie M. Frost Natural Resources Centre at (705) 766-2451 or visit www.frostcentre.on.ca

Award winning artist brings tapestry designs to Minden

by Dianne Graham, Curator, Agnes Jamieson Gallery

The name Elva Hasselfeldt is certainly a familiar one in the Ontario arts community and it is with great pride that the Agnes Jamieson Gallery presents a showing of her extraordinary tapestries from June 21 to July 15.

Elva has won numerous awards for her outstanding work and was the second president of the Ontario Rug Hooking Guild. She was one of twelve artists who represented Ontario at a demonstration of Canadian arts at the Olympics in Montreal.

Now retired, Elva taught tapestry for about 20 years through the school and library boards in the City of Toronto and has been an instructor of creative rug hooking at the Haliburton School of the Arts for several years.

A conversation with this charming woman clearly illustrates her joy in the creative process. While she loved teaching, Elva feels that she is doing her best work now. Retirement and the time for travel has given her marvelous opportunities to "let the creative juices flow". Elva has been to Norway, Greece, South America and across Canada - and she actively soaks up impressions, feelings, colours and atmosphere wherever she goes.

She represented Canada at the World Craft Conference in Kyoto, Japan in 1985 and discovered that the simplicity of Japanese design appealed to her. Several of her pieces in the show at the Agnes Jamieson Gallery reflect her Japanese experience.

Elva simply sparkles with enthusiasm as she tries to help others "see what she sees" through her work.

For a large piece, Elva may take up to a year to research a design and collect just the right scraps of fabric or yarns which best express her vision. She sketches her own designs and often dyes her own yarn to create just the right subtle tones. Elva's blending of colour and attention to detail is amazing - yarn, cotton or silk portray cool shadows in trees, soft bird feathers or the rugged feel of rocks. Whether its hooked, embroidered or quilted, many of the pieces include a surprising touch - a branch, bead, shell or even a silk cocoon. Depending on the subject, her colour choices range from the vibrant "Santorini" village to the calm tones of the oriental "Cherry Blossoms" and the monochromatic "Silk Worms". The variety of textures and stitches make it difficult not to touch the tapestries.

This impressive collection "The Colours of Fibre Art" will fill two rooms of the Agnes Jamieson Gallery. Plan to meet this gracious artist on Saturday, June 23 from 2 - 4 p.m.

Elva Hasselfeldt works on an intricate tapestry. Her award-winning work will be on display at the Agnes Jamieson Gallery starting June 21.

Gena Robertson received a carved wooden plaque from Who's Who, honoring her achievements. The executive director of SIRCH Community Services and Consulting said, "I am thrilled. It is truly gratifying to be recognized for my community work and accomplishments by such a prestigious organization."

The accomplishments include initiating over 20 health and social service programs in B.C. and Ontario.

In Haliburton County, Robertson has played a pivotal role in bringing in and setting up services such as Community Hospice, Telecare Distress Line, Adult Mental Health Counselling, Parent Support Services, Bright Starts Community Action Program for Children and others to serve the Haliburton County community.

Linda Mintz, a staff member with SIRCH over the past 11 years stated, "Gena is always moving forward. We all run to keep up with her new innovations and can't help but admire a woman who is focused on what can be done. She believes in her team and that together it really can happen."

President of the SIRCH Board, Wendy Ladurantaye said, "Gena has profound insight into what is lacking or needed in the community and has the tenacity to create that program or answer that need. Her main focus has always been on the client and meeting the client's needs in a sensitive way. What people really admire about Gena is her ability to see the big picture, see a need, answer that need and ensure that it's done in the best way possible with the highest of integrity."

Diane Johnson agrees. With SIRCH for over 10 years she notes, "I have always found Gena to be solution-focused and to focus on strengths and positives...she has a genuine care and concern for this area and its residents."

Outside of Haliburton County, Robertson has gained provincial and national recognition for "School's Cool", a learning readiness course for pre-schoolers. The brainchild of Robertson, SIRCH Consulting now produces and distributes School's Cool kits, and certifies instructors. School's Cool courses are running in nearly 100 communities across Ontario, as well as in P.E.I. and B.C.

Robertson is also known for taking a lead role in consulting con-

Scott heads federal Conservative executive

Laurie Scott has been elected President of the Haliburton-Victoria-Brock Federal Progressive Conservative Riding Association.

The Annual General Meeting took place at the Olympia Restaurant in Lindsay on June 6.

Joining Laurie on the executive are: John Macklem, Vice President; Gerry Walker, second Vice President; Secretary, Margot Fawcett; Treasurer, Larry Todd; and the Membership Secretary, Marlene Burns.

The local Progressive Conservatives also elected a full compliment of directors. They are: Lisa Alger, Hugh Armstrong, Phyllis Bishop, Harold Brown, Sandy Burton, Mary Beth Corcoran, Patti Cragg, Joanne Dunbar, Eric Girdler, Chris Handley, Joe Hickson, Margaret Johnston-Jones, Barb Kelly, Frank Kinzinger, Reg Learn, Andy Miller, Barb Morrissey, Marlene Morrison-Nicholls, Peter Oyler, Bob Pennock, Ross Rigney, Kim Ross, Mary Lou Ross, Len Siegel, Wayne Teel, John Todd, Don Willis.

Guest Speaker for the AGM was John Easchinger, election strategist and campaign chair. He candidly addressed the issue of the party's debt and its plan for financial recovery, and also dealt at length with the relationship of the PCs to both the Alliance and Block Quebecois parties. He said that "the status quo is not an option", and explained that the party is committed to making sure that it does not head into the next election so fractionalized that victory is handed to the Liberals on a platter.

At the same time he said, "The party is moving forward cautiously", and is open to dialogues with any political group.

In her address to the group, Ms. Scott said she was enthusiastic about re-building the party. She established a youth committee, a fundraising committee and a membership committee to get this riding association on track for a victory in the next federal election.

TSW report

The following report was issued by Parks Canada on June 12.

The arrival of summer weather over the past week has instigated an overall drying of the region. The total water levels within the Kawarthas continue to closely follow the 84 year average with total storage at 104% of the full level. The flow within the Ontonabee has been significantly reduced from last week, and is now slightly below the June average.

In the Haliburton Highlands, total lake storage is currently 92% which is only 2% lower than the 26 year average. Water has not been drawn from the Haliburton reservoirs for navigation purposes along the canal, but the forecasted dry, hot conditions are likely to necessitate running water by next week (June 18). The flow in the Gull and Burnt Rivers continues to be lower than normal for the period, however these flows will be increased once water is drawn from the lakes.

Robertson listed

tracts that SIRCH Consulting has done in other parts of the province.

Robertson is quick to point out that success takes teamwork. "I may have acted as a catalyst, but I have always found people with amazing skills to help carry out whatever project was in the works." Staff who have worked with Robertson value her commitment to teamwork.

Rosemarie Jung, another staff member at SIRCH stated, "Her leadership fosters an amazing sense of teamwork. That's how we get through the challenges - through teamwork and supporting each other. Gena encourages and invites you to explore what your strengths and skills are. She is a strong role model for me."

Though proud of the inclusion in "Who's Who", Robertson isn't slowing down any time soon. "There are lots of things I want to see happen."

Hens and roosters face off over deck of cards

Good day to everyone. That was some column last week, wasn't it? Bet you thought it would never end. Oh well, sometimes we do get carried away telling you what all goes on here. How are you surviving the heat? It certainly has been warm lately hasn't it. We are doing okay here. Some of us get our air earlier in the day when it's not quite so warm. That's also when we water our plants.

They certainly have been thirsty lately and after the transplanting they need that extra care. Anyway now it's time to fill you in on what's been happening lately.

Winnie Barnum's special celebration of her 91st birthday was well attended with many visitors seen coming and going. They were all here along with her family to wish her the very best. Those who did go reported that the food was lovely and the birthday cake was beautiful. Winnie blew out the candles herself, way to go Winnie!

Our card players have been having some fun this week. The report is and we quote "one old hen at 105, two old roosters at 90 and two beautiful ladies at 55". The results, the two old roosters won three games straight and are still crowing. Can you guess who the players were this week?

We were pleased to welcome Northern Jam to our Happy Hour. A great way to spend an afternoon according to Ed McKelvey and Hilda Gillespie and we all agree. With good music, good company and good fun, how could you not agree? The Norland Hillbillies provided a foot stompin' good time at Pub Night where many turned up to join in. Our thanks to these wonderfully talented people who provide us with such delightful entertainment. One of our music events was cancelled: Hymn Sing with Thelda. We're sorry that Thelda McGuire was unable to come. We missed you, hope to see you soon. In its place a few of us enjoyed the Gentle Hands programme. Mary Robinson, Hilda Gillespie, Vera Barnhart, Mildred Gartshore, Eleanor Pye and Alice Rivers all enjoyed the wonderful hand massage.

Our regular exercise program is still taking place and as we mentioned before some of the sessions are combined with trivia, which is fun. We had topics such as war years, which was enjoyed by Bea Britain, Vivian Austin and Lillian Stevenson. Also a massage was much enjoyed afterwards. Another time the discussion was all about the Bible. Mary Robinson, Thelda Weston, and Hilda Gillespie were involved with this one, and very good they were too.

Our Tea Party was hosted by St. Peter's, Maple Lake. What wonderful hosts they were, and what great company and treats. We thoroughly enjoyed their visit. Thanks you to all. Speaking of Tea Parties we must thank Pat Scott and Rev. Burgess as without their help faithfully each week some of us would have a difficult time getting there, not to mention all the extra things they do for us.

We had a good turnout to our Residents' Council meeting on Tuesday. It's good to see so many residents getting involved and after all it is our opportunity to make ourselves heard.

We were very glad to have Rev. Dan Millard join us at Tuesday morning Chapel Service while others chose to attend Prayer Friends. We are looking forward to this Sunday, June 17, when the "Glad Tidings Quartet" pays us a visit. We will tell you about this next week.

Let's not forget to tell you about "Memories" which is always enjoyed and this time all about the many memories of gardens and farm life. Oh how the memories flowed. Edith Russell, Hazel Gregory, Muriel Welch, Eleanor Pye, Margaret Foote, Hilda Gillespie, Mildred Gartshore all participated in this discussion and had a wonderful time doing so. What a wealth of information there was.

Hope we haven't rattled on too much this week, but before we go we must remind you of the open house coming up on Sunday, June 24th for Edith Russell. A 100th birthday party well worth marking on your calendar.

A warm welcome is extended to our newest resident, Olive Wray. We are happy to have you with us and it was nice to see you enjoying yourself at Pub Night this week.

Our congratulations to "Grandma" Linda. Yes our Linda has reached a milestone in her life, she is now a grandma and a proud one of course. A lovely little girl was born to her son Dale and his wife Leslie. This granddaughter's name is Camryn Phoebe English. A lovely name to match this little girl. We can attest to that, as she has been around to see us already.

Guess that's it. Bye for now and have a good week.

As I write, the hot weather is here!! With a vengeance!! I know none of you want to complain, as the winter wasn't fun. Extreme weather is difficult though, which ever end of the spectrum you experience. The water must be warming up....good swimming....good times out on the water. What Haliburton is all about.

As I wrote that, I looked up and saw a big cloud of 'dust' around the pine tree. I looked over to the river to see where it was coming from and saw the same cloud around the pine tree on the river bank. Since it was nowhere else, I think I witnessed the yellow pollen being expelled from the tree. I remember at the cottage we did not clean the screened porch until that part of the season was over as it coated everything. The lake was coated too. My brother-in-law couldn't go swimming when it was around because he had such an allergic reaction to it. I have never seen the clouds of it floating around trees like that before. That was most interesting!! Obviously the heat must have burst whatever was needed so the pollen could go and do its thing!!

Many things seem to be bursting or are almost ready for bursting. The Highway under major construction, Wendy's buying up land on said highway. Is there still talk about Canadian Tire? Stakes around town with fluorescent ribbons on them. (I happen to know they signify the sites for the heritage plaques for the Minden Heritage Tour as one is on my lawn!!) The Friends of Minden are working hard to get the tour up and running by Canada Day celebrations. I know they will succeed!! Potential everywhere. Lots of reality. We're moving!!

The Stanhope Community Center on June 3 was the setting for the celebration of the 55th wedding anniversary of Wilfred and Phyllis (nee Harrison) Ackerblade. Present among all the guests were matron of honour, Ruth Kellett, sister of the groom, and best man, Holly Harrison, brother of the bride. Friends, neighbours, relatives from Toronto, Newmarket, Oshawa and Peterborough attended the party. The happy occasion was put on by her family, Shirley Warder, and Bob and Lloyd Ackerblade.

Shirley Warder has been busy. She wants to inform you that St. Stephen's Church at Boskung is one hundred years old. The friends of the church are looking for information, history, pictures, articles, and your memories of the church. One of the big mysteries is who built the church? If you have something to add to this fact-finding mission, please call Shirley at 286-3356 in the evenings.

The Agnes Jamieson Gallery is on to the next show, which starts June 21. "The Colours of Fibre Art", incredible tapestries from the traditional to the modern will be an experience to behold. This work, by award winning artist Elva Hasselfeldt, will be on display until July 15. Meet the artist is on Saturday, June 23 at 2:00 p.m.

The Minden Museum is holding its second annual Croquet Tournament and Strawberry Social on June 24. Teams of two will be competing for the championship, followed by delectable strawberry shortcake!! Please call Carol Miles at the Museum at 286-3154 to register your croquet team!! Sounds like fun!!

Keep cool!! Enjoy!! Here's wishing you a great week ahead!!
